

Rules for Submission to Journal of Japan Society of Energy and Resources

*Except for manuscripts directly solicited by the editorial committee

Article1(Purpose)

These rules stipulate the submission and publication criteria for the journal "Energy and Resources" (magazine) and the electronic journal "Journal of the Society of Energy and Resources"(J-STAGE).

Article2(Qualification for Contribution)

The main author of all submitted manuscripts should be a member (regular member, special member, or student member) of Japan Society of Energy and Resources (JSER), and be the first author.

Article3(Submitted Manuscript)

- (1) Submitted manuscripts should be useful for the mutual enlightenment of members and for industrial and educational development of Japan as well, through sharing academic or technological knowledge and experience.
- (2) The contents should be related to the field of energy, resources, environment, and associated fields.
- (3) Manuscripts should follow the rules of submission and the guidelines for authors, which are available from the homepage of JSER. In addition, papers should be original, based on unfalsified research, and unpublished elsewhere, and should accord with accepted good practice with regards to reporting of research results. Manuscripts which do not follow these guidelines may not be accepted.
- (4) Research papers and technical papers related to research on humans, such as questionnaire surveys, must be reviewed and approved by the ethics review committee of the institution to which the author belongs.
- (5) Research papers and technical papers related to research on humans, such as questionnaire surveys, must be reviewed and approved by the ethics review committee of the institution to which the author belongs. Manuscripts should be submitted to the secretary office of JSER (toko@jser.gr.jp) by e-mail as an attached file in principle. Postal submission is also available.
- (6) Authors should also complete the designated "Author Information Card" and attach or enclose it when submitting manuscripts.
- (7) Authors should submit the copyright transfer statement which will be provided from the secretary office after the submission of the final version of the manuscript.

Article5(Publication fee)

- (1) Publication fees for research papers and technical papers are charged as shown in subsidiary rule 1. An additional fee for paper offprints is charged if requested by the author.
- (2) Publication fees for all manuscripts except for research papers and technical papers are charged as shown in subsidiary rule 2. The authors will receive a PDF file of the printed manuscript. An additional fee for paper offprints is charged if requested by the author.

Article6(Treatment of receipt and acceptance of manuscripts)

- (1) All submitted manuscripts will be judged at the peer-review committee before being put to the editorial committee. Manuscripts which do not match with the rules for submission may not be accepted for review. The result of initial assessment and the date of receipt (the day that the manuscript arrives at the secretariat office) will be notified to the corresponding author.
- (2) The received manuscripts will be reviewed by reviewers appointed by the peer-review committee. The acceptance of received manuscripts will be judged based on the report of the peer-review committee by the editorial committee (6 times a year, during even-numbered months in principle) and the corresponding author will be notified with the results. The date of acceptance is taken as the day when the editorial committee meeting is held. Category changes for papers may be requested.
- (3) The manuscripts will be considered as rejected if the author does not respond to the inquiries of the editorial committee within the appointed period (3 months).
- (4) The revised manuscript may be treated as a “re-submission” by the judgement of the editorial committee if the contents of the manuscripts have been extensively revised.

Article7(Proofreading)

Pre-print proofs will be sent to the author for proofreading. The author will have one opportunity to request edits to the proof, after which changes to the contents are not permitted. Re-assessment will be performed by the editorial committee if the contents are changed.

Article8(Copyright)

The copyright of all contents published in Journal of Japan Society of Energy and Resources shall belong to Japan Society of Energy and Resources. Therefore, anyone who wants to reprint any contents from the Journal must ask for approval from the Japan Society of Energy and Resources. Copying in any form without notice is prohibited.

Article9(Revision or abolition)

These rules may be revised or abolished with the approval of the editorial executive committee.

(Subsidiary rule 1)

The publication fee for research papers and technical papers is 6,000 yen per page.

(Subsidiary rule 2)

The publication fee for all other paper categories is 6,000 yen per printed page within the number of standard pages and 10,000 yen per printed page beyond that limit.

※The amount does not include consumption tax.
